WORK TOGETHER

TOWN AND COUNTRY PEOPLE SHOULD WORK IN UNISON.

EMPLOY COUNTY AGENT

A Plan in Most Communities is to Raise Money to Hire Agricultural Agent.

During the past decade there has been arising all over the United States an awakened interest in agriculture. This interest has grown steadily until today we find business men, bankers, railroads, and men in all lines of work interested in agricultural development. This is a significant thing, and means much to our future prosperity, says the agricultural bulletin issued by the Burlington.

This extensive interest in agriculture has been produced by natural causes. It is a healthy and a legitimate interest. As the country grows older, men everywhere are beginning to realize that agriculture is and always will be the backbone of our national prosperity, and that after all our greatest question is, "How shall we be fed and wherewithal shall we be clothed?" Population is increasing much more rapidly than production. The production of all classes of live stock, with the exception of horses, has declined in the past ten years. Our export trade in grains and beef products is declining, showing a greater home consumption. The fertility of our soils is being sold and shipped away from the farms, steadily making them poorer. There is little room for expansion of our agricultural lands in the United States. Any increase in production must come from better fertilization, better and more intensive methods of farming the lands already under cultivation, and better methods of marketing and distributing the crops produced. The realization of these truths has caused the tremendous interest which is now being taken in the farmer's welfare.

Many methods have been used to advance the interests of the farmer. The state agricultural colleges by their educational courses, farmers' institutes, short courses, experimental work and bulletins, have done much. The government by its experimental stations, field demonstrations and bulletins has assisted materially. The railroads have operated special agricultural trains, distributed seeds, established demonstration farms, and in many other ways have aided in this movement. The farm papers, through their columns, have done a great deal to spread the gospel of better farming.

This has been good work. Yet it has not done the work intended for it to do. There have been many objections and criticisms to the methods used. Every county and every farm has its individual problems, hence the experimental work carried on was in many cases not applicable. The demonstration farms were of little value because they were not operated on the same basis as the farmer's lands. No matter what system of management was used they were criticised because they had large amounts of capital behind them and did not care about making a financial profit on the investment. An investigation disclosed the fact that only 7 per cent of the farmers read the government bulletins. The farmers were skeptical of the institute because there was too much talk and too little demonstration. In nearly all of this work there was too great a distance between the educator and the farmer. A new plan of education was demanded by the most progressive communities. This resolved itself into the county agricultural agent or county demonstrator plan. In brief, the plan is as follows:

The people of the county co-operating together, raise a sum of money sufficient to hire and pay the expenses of a county agricultural agent. This county agent, being employed by the county as a whole, is engaged to devote his entire time to the upbuilding of the county. As expressed in the Clay county, Iowa, preamble, the purpose of this county work is "To make Clay county greater, richer, and a better place to live, and to develop the agricultural, commercial, social and material interest of the county." This is the most practicable and sensible plan for developing the agricultural resources of a county yet presented.

The greatest advantage of this plan is that it reaches the people directly. Personal contact and ocular demonstrations are the best possible ways in which to get information to the farmers. To believe a thing, a man must have confidence in the person who makes the statement. The county agricultural agent, by meeting the farmers directly, if he is the right sort, inspires confidence. By making field demonstrations, which all can see, the value of the information can be tested.

The organization of the county as a whole for the purpose of developing the county will tend to unify the county. Town and country people work together for the common good. It tends to do away with the imaginary line which exists between town and country.

It will also advertise the county on its merits. Counties having agricultural agents will be known as progressives. People will hear of the work and will be attracted to the county. The county man will do for the county what paid commercial secretaries have done for many of our cities.

Money spent in such development work will be returned a hundred fold, due to the stimulus given to the county by the presence of a "live wire." But this is not all. Mr. W. A. Hamilton, milk inspector of Kansas City, Mo., says:

"It is not altogether a matter of producing 100 bushels of corn where 50 grew before, nor piling up a bank account to the greatest altitude, half so much as that all men shall realize their kinship and the solidity of mankind, that the farm life shall become more attractive, that the burdens of the housewife shall be less, that the education of the boy and girl shall be more practical, and that public improvement shall be encouraged."

The Burlington railroad is interested in the progress of this work, because of the value of such work in building up the territory. They stand willing to assist counties where they have sufficient mileage, in starting this work by:

1st. Giving financial aid to worthy counties which will organize on a permanent basis for this work.

2nd. Lending the assistance of their agricultural department wherever and whenever possible.

They will be pleased to lend the assistance of their agricultural department to anyone along the line desiring assistance. They are interested in all problems of an agricultural nature. They will gladly co-operate with any agency for the purpose of bettering conditions along the line. If you are interested in the development of your community and want help; if you want to organize a farmers' club, a short course, an agricultural fair or an institute, if they can help you in any way in your farming operations they will be very glad to hear from you. They will welcome criticisms and suggestions as to ways in which they can benefit their territory. Write them your opinions. Address all correspondence and inquiries to J. B. Lamson, agriculturist, C., B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

312 CITIES OWN PLANTS.

Public Service Commission Gathers Statistics in Missouri.

Statisticians in the employ of the Missouri public service commission have recently compiled figures showing the number of municipally owned utilities in the state.

There are 312 of these plants, all small, however, with the exception of the St. Louis and Kansas City water companies. The plants are of various kinds, many being engaged in the manufacture of gas and electricity, solely, some supplying heat, light, power and water and some electricity or gas alone.

The compilation shows the following:

Electric service, 127; gas, 19; water, 17; electricity and water, 10; water and gas, 4; electricity and heat, 6; electricity, heat and gas, 3; electricity, heat, gas and water, 1; heat, 1; refrigeration, 2.

Municipalities furnishing electrical service, 32; gas service, 1; water service, 45; electricity and water, 29; electricity and gas, 1, and water and gas, 1.

IN DAYS OF YORE

THE QUILTING AND SHOOTING MATCHES WERE BRIGHT SPOTS.

HELPED CURE "BLUES"

Nights Spent in Dancing—Also Tempting Feasts Were Spread—A pioneer's Description.

Among the pioneer day sports in this county may be mentioned the shooting matches and quilting parties, both of which were enjoyed by old and young alike, and much different from the sports of today. One settler, in speaking of it, said:

"The quilting parties were especially pleasant to attend and were often conducted jointly with "rail splittings." The established rule in those days at these gatherings was to pay either $1 in money or split 100 rails during the course of the day. The men would split the rails and the women would remain in the house and do the quilting. After the day's work was done, the night would be spent in dancing. When broad daylight appeared the music would cease, likewise the tip of the "light fantistic toe."

"The evening visits, when the nearby, and at times ever far-away, neighbors would gather in some pioneer house and spend the first half of the long winter night, were also among the feasts for the early settlers. At a late hour the good housewife would spread her table and soon a tempting supper was placed before the visitors. These and many other pleasant meetings made life easier to endure, driving away the homesickness and "blues" that often came upon both the husband and wife of the house. By this they were made cheerful for the time being and received a hearty invitation to "come over to our place some evening," which went on from house to house, until seeding time arrived in the spring, when pioneers had minds and hands all too full for seeking such visitations. These were some of the bright spots in the days of yore in this county."

EXPERIMENTING WITH ALFALFA.

An experiment has been carried on under the supervision of Prof. J. C. Hackleman of the agronomy department of the state agricultural college since August 20, 1910, to demonstrate the effect of the variety and source of seed upon the growth and longevity of the alfalfa plant. Several varieties from various sources were sown in individual rows 2½ feet apart and 120 feet long. A check seed, obtained from a reliable seed company was used every sixth row.

The average yield of the plants for the three years of the experiment varies from two tons per cutting to about two-fifths of a ton. Some of the varieties started were killed entirely by the winter freezing. Others lost from 10 to 50 per cent of their plants, making a poor stand. The best varieties are as thick as ever, not being affected by our severe winters.

"This fall I was very fortunate in being able to get several seeds from individual rows, as we are not often able to get alfalfa seed from plants in this section," Mr. Hackleman said. "The general yield was good. In harvesting, as much difference between yields of seeds of different varieties of alfalfa was noticed, as in hay. This indicates other possibilities in this work."

The experiment will be continued next year with greater selection of seed and a better idea of what to strive for. Figures will then be given to show the place of alfalfa as a growing crop in this section.

Funeral Services Wednesday.

The funeral services for Mrs. Kathryn Langan-Baker will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Christian church, and will be conducted by Rev. S. D. Harkness of the First Presbyterian church. Interment at St. Mary's cemetery, Rev. F. Willibrord officiating.

MRS. CHARLES ANTHONY DEAD.

Passed Away Some Time Tuesday Morning—Had Been Ill at St. Francis Hospital a Week.

Mrs. Charles Anthony was found dead in her bed Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock by her husband, who thought she was lying unusually quiet and thought best to awaken her.

Mrs. Anthony had been ill in bed for three weeks. A week ago she was taken home from the hospital, where she had been taking a week's treatment, and was considered much better, and on Monday she said she was feeling unusually well.

When Mr. Anthony got up early Tuesday morning he noticed that she was lying very quiet, and thinking she was resting unusually well did not speak to her for some time. About 7 o'clock he thought she was unusually quiet and thought he would speak to her and get her to take a little breakfast. When he spoke to her he found that she was dead. Her death had not occurred much before he awoke Tuesday morning, it is the opinion of the physicians. She was afflicted with a complication of diseases that weakened her heart.

No funeral arrangements have been made and will not be until the arrival of Frank Anthony of near Pickering and Senas Anthony of Mounds, Okla., the surviving children.

Mrs. Anthony leaves three sisters, Mrs. Will Thompson of Graham, Mrs. Truesdale of Richland Center, Wis., and Mrs. Maggie Calhoun of Oklahoma.

She was born in North Jackson, Mahoney county, O., and would have been 68 years old had she lived until the coming 27th day of November. She was married to her husband in 1866. They came to Nodaway county thirty-three years ago and settled on a farm six miles northwest of Barnard, where they lived until ten years ago, when they moved to Maryville, to their home at West Twelfth street, where her death occurred.

She was a member of the M. E. church, South, of Barnard.

TODAY IS APPLE DAY.

Is the Ninth Observance in the United States Intended to Arouse Interest.

Today is national apple day. It is the ninth annual apple day, originated and fostered by the International Apple Shippers' association, and it will be observed not only in the United States, but in Canada and all countries where apples are grown.

While the apple crop in some parts of this country has not been as bountiful this year as usual, it nowhere has been a failure and in many localities is normal. One authority says that the crop is equal to a wall of apples twelve feet high extending from Chicago to New York. If the apples were placed end to end, they would extend more than 300,000 miles, or equal a double track six times around the world. If they were packed in barrels and the barrels piled end on end, the top would be more than 6,000 miles above the earth. If the fruit were offered for shipment on a single day the railroads and ocean steamships would be powerless to move it.

The primary purpose of apple day is educational and to foster the advancement of apple culture. It was hoped to bring everyone into touch with the fascinating vocation and to awaken a national pride in a fruit that the United States produces in unequaled excellence. The apple in its highest development belongs distinctively to the United States, and is considered the king of all fruits.

Persons who have not already acquired the habit, are urged to begin on apple day to eat at least one apple each day. No fruit is so healthful, it is argued, and none is so generally loved. The promoters of the day especially urge that the children be amply provided with apples.

Purchased Property Here.

Walter H. Campbell of Barnard purchased Monday the Enos J. Kissinger six-acre tract lying in Southeast Maryville. Mr. Kissinger bought of Campbell & Pollard their farm, one mile east of Barnard. Allen Bros. of this city represented both parties in the transaction.

WILSON A SUCCESS

A WELL-NIGH UNANIMOUS VERDICT IN WASHINGTON.

HE THINKS CLEARLY

Then Proceed to Act Without Hesitation as to Outcome—He Has Made Good.

A dispatch from Washington to the St. Louis Republic says:

If his seven months' service is enough to base a judgment upon, Woodrow Wilson is a success in the presidency. Such is the well-nigh unanimous verdict here.

An interesting question, therefore, is just this: Why is he successful? Here's an answer, perhaps a complete one, which a Democratic senator skimmed off the top of his mind in conversation with friends the other evening:

"You probably remember, though have not paused to consider and apply to President Wilson, the rule which says the shortest distance between two given points is a straight line.

"Now, Mr. Wilson is the best example in American public life of the value of applying this rule in public affairs. His feet are always on solid ground; he knows 'where he is at.'

"He picks out his destination, and then proceeds along the straight line, without hesitation or deviation, to said destination.

"Of course, this is merely a way of saying he thinks clearly. But his ability to think clearly, marvelous though it is, is not the greatest quality he possesses. The presidency is probably the most difficult of positions in which to get and keep your bearings. The word 'keep' implies his greatest quality, fixity of purpose. He sees what to do, decides to do it—and never wavers.

"Now, the way along this straight line, of course, is beset with obstacles. He must fight to keep going. This he does, smiling all the time. For a man with chronic indigestion, his capacity to smile when things seem to be wrong is simply unbelievable.

"'By their fruits ye shall know them.' Well, each week and each month Wilson is further along the road to accomplishment than he was the preceding week and preceding month. His quality of getting there wins the confidence and hence the cooperation of congress. Democratic representatives and senators see that their personal and political fortunes are irrevocably bound up with Wilson's. Hence they are generally found in line behind him."

W. Rufus Hollister, private secretary of Senator Stone, did not intend to be quoted when he discoursed as is hereinbelow set forth. But there's no harm in it, and his view emphasizes the fact of Wilson's dominant place in Democratic politics.

"Just one thing Missourians will decide a year from November, and that is whether or not the Wilson administration will be given a vote of confidence," Hollister said. "The issue will be only this: Has Wilson made good? I haven't a doubt about the outcome, nor have I met anyone who has."

The "fresh-water button people" who protested when the Underwood tariff was in the making that it would drive them out of business have discovered that it grants them a valuable concession. These buttons are made from mussel shells, and the factories are scattered along the Mississippi river from Iowa to Louisiana.

W. C. Grubbs of Canton, Mo., on behalf of the whole industry, has called the attention of Mississippi valley senators to the convict labor clause of the new law. Under this clause the importation of convict made goods is prohibited. It appears that buttons made by convicts in Austria compete with our own fresh water buttons in large quantities. Grubbs insists that the law hits the Austrian buttons. If it is proven that they are convict made the foreign buttons will be shut out.

The job of an umpire in the world series is a sinecure beside that of Postmaster General Burleson. He is the umpire of more different kinds of political spats than any other man in the administration.

One aspect of his task involves expanding the civil service system. Another involves the dispensation of the greatest number of political jobs in the gift of the administration. His newest task of umpiring has to do with the dividing line between the two classes of jobs.

The fourth class postmasterships are now being awarded to the winners of civil service examinations. But the compensation of fourth class postmasters fluctuates in relation to the amount of business done in their offices, and the law provides that when a fourth class postmaster's pay runs above $250 for three consecutive quarters his office automatically becomes a third class office. When this happens the job becomes a political one.

In Missouri cases have arisen in which fourth class officeholders are accused of having so juggled their accounts as to avoid passing the $250 mark three consecutive times. In these instances Democratic candidates are seeking to get the places through political channels. Mr. Burleson is making an investigation in each case to determine the truth of the charges.

SIN IS CALLED SUICIDAL.

Question Whether Man Who Ends Life is Insane, Dr. Robbins Says.

Declaration that "sin is suicidal" was made by Rev. Grant A. Robbins, pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal church of St. Louis in a sermon there Sunday morning on "God's Thoughts and Man's." Rev. Robbins was formerly pastor of the First M. E. church of this city.

"Self-destruction is the outgrowth of hopelessness, of despair," said Dr. Robbins. "The question whether the self-destroyer is necessarily insane is a moot one. But we all practice a kind of self-destruction. We abbreviate our own lives. Most of us merely exist; we do not live. Our eyes are downward. There is no widening and expanding of the soul, no breathing of God's mountain air.

"God's thoughts are not man's thoughts in reference to the uselessness of effort. God inspires hope. God comes to the rescue.

"Man's thoughts concerning forgiveness could not equal God's. We sometimes have eulogized the sense of forgiveness and mercy and tenderness in man, speaking of it as if it were the really human trait. We speak about 'humanitarianism,' but in reality what we call humanity is divinity.

"Jesus seems to stand on the side of the human. He joins himself to humanity when he calls himself 'Son of man.' He takes up the case of the race of men. What means those parables concerning the 'Lost Sheep' and the 'Lost Piece of Money' and the 'Lost Man,' if it is not a plea for the value of the worst human? When a weeping woman bathed the Savior's feet with her tears, they said this man is not a prophet or he would have known the character of the woman who touched him, but Jesus understood it all. Christ saw in her a possible saint."

Dr. Robbins referred to the recent convention of the Episcopal church and the regret that the expression, 'class church,' had there been used. "But it is stated," he added, "that there is a new movement on to reach the common people. Pharisaism in the church would destroy its vital power. The most scathing denunciations of our Savior were directed against Pharisaism in the Jewish church. God has always honored the services and ministry of the men who came to His thought and His plan for the saving of men."

A CASE OF NEED

FAMILY IN DIREST POVERTY IN MARYVILLE.

ARE COLD AND HUNGRY

Children Should Have Clothing and Food—They Must Have a House.

We wish every reader of The Democrat-Forum might visit a place that is called the home of a family now living in Maryville, in company with a reporter for this paper, who went to that "home" Monday evening with a member of the board of charities.

It is a shack in the Harrison pasture over beyond the cattle chute at the Burlington station. It was built as a sheltering place for men who would be working there in bad weather, and a stove has been in there for several years, in which a fire could be made in severe weather. But no one dreamed of any one trying to live there.

About two weeks ago a man and his wife and four children drove into Maryville from Gove county, Kansas, where they had been burned out by last summer's drought. They stopped here because it was the best looking country they had seen in their travels to get away from the drought country.

They showed the terrible strain of hardships, the father and mother looking extremely worn from overwork and hunger.

The man asked for work and was given all he was able to do. He and his family drove to the Harrison pasture, upon permission of the Harrison brothers to do so, and there they have lived in that little shack in daytime and slept in the wagon at night.

Men around town have several times clubbed together and bought them groceries. But that is not all they need. They are completely down and out. There is not anything they do not need, and as we looked around in the little shack Monday evening trying to see what they cooked in and ate their food out of, you would not believe it if we said they didn't have a thing worth having to do with.

If you want to do good to yourself, send them dishes, pans and cooking utesils of any kind and you won't make a mistake.

The 14-year-old girl had on a calico dress that had no sleeves, no underwear, but she had stockings and slippers on. Her condition has been relieved since. She is at the home of Mrs. G. A. Nash. She is a bright little girl, has always been in school and Sunday school when possible, and her three brothers show good raising. They are good people, and those who have talked with the father have confidence in him. But he must have food before he can have strength.

The mother is afflicted with weak eyes. But her way of speaking to her children shows that she has done the best she could for them.

What is needed is a house for this family. Money for a month's rent will be a good start, and you may contribute to Harry Harrison or the charity board.

CIRCUIT COURT TOMORROW.

An Adjourned Session to Dispose of Several Motions.

A session of circuit court will be held Wednesday with Judge W. C. Ellison on the bench. The court will dispose of several motions, such as motions for new trials, for appeals and for change of venue. The docket will be gone over and will be cleaned up.

The case of Benjamin Hutchinson vs. Ada Stockton, nee Long, motion to review judgment, will come up tomorrow.

NO BIDS WERE RECEIVED

By the City for the Job of Paving on North Market Street—Too Small a Job.

A special meeting of the city council was to have been held Monday night, but there was no quorum. The purpose of the meeting was to let the contract for paving North Market street from First to Third and the alley between Second and Third and Main and Market streets, but there were no bids received by the city.

The city will probably again ask for bids from paving contractors. It is said that the job is so small that it would not pay a paving company to ship their machinery here and take the chances of collecting their money from the property owners.

Famous Sayings About Children.

In the November Woman's Home Companion, Mary Heaton Vorse writes the second of a series of articles entitled "The New Freedom for Little Children," in which she shows how the Montessori principle of education may be applied by the American mother at home. The editor of the Companion, in the course of an introduction to the series, quotes the following sayings about children. These sayings are the sayings of the greatest observers, lovers and educators of children from Froebel to Montessori:

"Trust childhood."

"There is no bad child. The bad child is a good child in a wrong environment."

"There is no stupid child. The stupid child is a child receiving an education unsuited to it."

"Give children a chance to expand according to their individual temperaments."

"Observe children as you do flowers. Help them to be themselves. Give them the soil they need."

Luke McLuke Says.

Married at St. Mary's.

Miss Emma Breedlove and Frank Wilmas of near Arkoe were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. Willibrord officiating. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Rosa Wilmas, a sister of the groom, and John Meyers from Indiana.

Who Will Name This Club?

A new club, not yet named, has been organized with the following membership: Miss Jane Hinote, Miss Mary Ogden, Mrs. Stella Mason Lewis, Mrs. Eva Houston Scott, Miss Ella Richards, Miss Bess Porter, Miss Phyllis Sayler, Miss Hazel Ritchie, Miss Beulah Bruner, Miss Nelle Hudson, Miss Nancy Lee Maxwell, Miss Hettie Anthony, Miss Inez Bainum, Miss Golda Airy, Miss LaRue Kemp and Miss Dora Day.

His Seventy-First Anniversary.

A very successful surprise was given Friday forenoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. House, two and a half miles northwest of Bolckow, when a company of relatives and friends assembled at 11 o'clock and spread a delicious dinner, which was served at 12:30. The delightful affair was to celebrate the seventy-first anniversary of Mr. House. He received the best wishes of the company for many more anniversaries as happy as the one just celebrated.

Will Give a "Kid" Party.

To celebrate the closing of the contest for new members, the Y. W. C. A. of the State Normal will have a gay time Friday night. The association was divided into two sections for the contest, the Reds and the Blues, and the Blues have won. According to agreement, the losing side is to entertain the winning side, so the Reds will give a "kid" party at the Normal, everyone invited to come attired after the style of children, the more kiddish you appear the better.

The K. K. Girls Met Friday.

The K. K. girls of Parnell, with Maybird Mayfield and Quete Morgan as hostesses, met Friday afternoon at the Mayfield home. An hour was spent in business, reading and fancy work, and the remainder of the afternoon in playing games. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Mayfield. Through the kindness of Mr. Mayfield the girls were taken to and from the place of meeting in his farm wagon. As they left for their homes each guest was presented a pumpkin that is to be made into a jack-o'-lantern for Hallowe'en. All spent a delightful afternoon.

A Good Time at President's Home.

The senior class of the Northwest Normal entertained the members of the faculty in a delightful way Saturday evening at the home of President and Mrs. Richardson. The principal pastime of the evening was a conversazione carried on after the manner of a dance. Handsomely printed programs were given to each lady and her engagement secured for one period or at the piano player and engagements dance. President Richardson presided for a tete-a-tete during the playing of that number were filled, or were sometimes rudely broken off by the pianist, who unexpectedly ceased the music, which was always the signal for a change of partners for the next engagement in conversation. Other diversions were enjoyed, and then luncheon.

Organized Queen Esther Circle.

A Queen Esther Circle was organized at the home of Miss Loma Bowers Saturday evening, which will enlist the girls of 14 years old and over of the First M. E. church in home missionary work. The circle will meet the second Friday night of each month for study and attention to phases of work that will be presented to them. They will begin the study of Mormonism at their next meeting. The circle will work under the direction of Miss Jane Barrows. The officers chosen are Miss Ula Strader, president; Miss Ruby Irwin, vice president; Miss Mary Sewell, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy DeMotte, corresponding secretary; Miss Vijune Colden, secretary of supplies; Miss Greta Kemp, treasurer, and Miss Mattie Clayton, secretary of the mite boxes.

Remembered His Birthday.

The college algebra class at the State Normal did not have its lesson for Tuesday afternoon, we learn, and in order to escape the reprimand they so richly deserved, they devised a plan (they are every last one schemers from the word go) whereby they might win the grace of their instructor, the good Dean G. H. Colbert, so completely that he would forget all about the lesson. The girls of the class have long since read that "the way to a man's heart is by way of his stomach," and so they brought a nice lucheon, and invited the very president himself, Professor Ira Richardson, to come and be the dignity of the class period, and it worked splendidly. Dean Colbert yielded with perfect grace and accepted as a perfect matter of course all the nice things said to him by Professor Richardson and the students, and it certainly was one of the most unexpected and nicest affairs the students have thought of in a long time. However, the college algebra class denies emphatically they did not have their lesson. And maybe it is true, after all, for some who are not smart enough to be in their class do start terribles on them. It turns out that the real reason for the demonstration is that Tuesday is Dean Colbert's birthday anniversary, and the class wanted to show him a nice little courtesy of some sort for his uniform kindness and patience with them. So no wonder President Richardson gave his consent and pleasant, dignified, smiling presence. He is going to have a birthday, too, some day. The members of the class are Wayland Ford, Mr. La Salle, Frank McKee, Ethel Rush, Miss Metzer, Jane Gladstone, Clara Clymens, Francyl Rickenbrode, Martha Denny, Elizabeth Sobbing Grace DeMotte.

Studied Italian Painting.

A visitor at the meeting of the Arts and Crafts department of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon said the program matter and the ability shown by those participating would have done justice to any woman's club anywhere. Miss Anna Dooley was the hostess and leader for the study. Her comments at the close of each paper or talk was both instructive and entertaining. The older members of the club, used to taking part, did themselves proud with their papers, while Mrs. George Bellows' talk was as good as a lecture by Mrs. Ess, considering the time and subject she handled. The two new members on the program, who gave their first papers, Mrs. Byron Rhoades and Mrs. J. H. Gray, were highly commended. The program was as follows: Give a brief outline of painting to the year 1250, Miss Laura Barmann. Outline Italian painting from 1250 to 1600 or to the decadence, Miss Clara Sturm. Who was Lionardo de Vinci and in how many fields did he achieve success? Mrs. George P. Bellows. What picture of his was stolen recently (Mona Lisa)? Mrs. S. R. Beech. Describe the picture Mona Lisa and how to study pictures, Mrs. W. H. Carpenter. Which is his most famous picture (The Last Supper), Mrs. Roy Collins. From 1474 to 1564 the study was: Who reached the pinnacle of success as a sculptor in this period (Michael Angelo)? Mrs. R. C. Benight. Was he also a painter? Mrs. S. G. Gillam. Name and describe some of his works, Mrs. J. A. Ford. Compare Raphael with Michael Angelo, Mrs. J. H. Gray. Tell the story of Raphael's life, Mrs. Byron Rhoades. What influence has his work on the people? Mrs. George R. Eaton. Tell the story of the Madonna of the Chair, Miss Elise Jackson. Who painted the "Holy Night" (Correggio)? Mrs. J. F. Colby. Name other pictures and compare with Raphael, Miss Ella Walton Frank. General discussion by club of Italian painting. During the business session a vote of thanks was extended Miss Dooley for copies of the paintings talked of during the lesson, which each member of the department received for future reference. Also a vote of thanks was extended Miss Jessie Parcher, past president of the general club, for securing the brilliant Mrs. Ess of Kansas City for the lecture last week.

The Economy of "One Man" Direction

IT IS obivious that a motor car manufacturer can build 50,000 cars at much less than he can build 1,000. But the difference in quantity buying and in quantity manufacturing are not the only elements of saving which can be effected.

Each factory has its own system, its own machinery, its own personnel. Some are still making cars by the old routine with the conventional methods and machinery. Some have advanced more or less and a few, a very few, are producing on the up-to-the-minute efficiency basis by special machinery and special methods particularly adapted to the size and type of the car being made.

We say without hesitation, and it is a fact well-known in the trade, that the great Overland plants are unquestionably the most thoroughly, efficiently and economically equipped and managed.

This great business has the advantage of the personal direction of one single man—the man who founded the business, the man who has grown up with it from the beginning, the man who developed it—John N. Willys.

Mr. Willys has clung steadfastly to the watchword, "The most car for the least money." And each year he has more than made good this principle.

To produce a car of the Overland size, power, strength and high quality, and to sell that car for such a remarkably low price, has taxed, to the utmost, all the resourcefulness, foresight, ingenuity, untiring energy and wide experience of, not only Mr. Willys, but a veritable army of the industry's most able men.

Mr. Willys knows men, and it is well known that no manufacturing institution, perhaps in the world, can boast of a larger or more efficient and well-trained, well-paid, well-satisfied organization.

In the newest Overland INCREASED value at a DECREASED price is more prominent and apparent than ever.

You will make a grave mistake if you fail to thoroughly examine our latest model.

10-CENT "CASCARETS" STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

MISSING NURSE OF LEPERS RETURNS

Acquaintance Persuaded Her Not to End Life.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Miss Marie Collier, who disappeared Friday, leaving a note saying that she had been ostracised by society because she formerly was a nurse in a leper colony, has returned.

She asserted that the unfounded reports that she was suffering from leprosy, causing her friends to forsake her, had so discouraged her that she had determined to shoot herself. She said that Miss A. Benjamin of Milwaukee, an acquaintance, had persuaded her not to end her life.

"I became so dispirited Friday that I decided there was no use living any longer," said Miss Collier. "Miss Benjamin brightened me up and I now intend to go back to the lepers. I am an outcast from society. A number of doctors have made examinations and reported that I am free from leprosy, but my friends refuse to believe. If I go to any gathering the crowd near me dwindles, until I find myself standing alone."

SAY RATES FAVOR NEBRASKA

Kansas Traffic Associations Allege Roads Discriminate.

Kansas City, Oct. 21.—Evidence to support the complaints of various traffic associations and commercial organizations in Kansas that the freight tariffs on bananas shipped from New Orleans and Galveston to Topeka, Wichita and Hutchinson are unjustly discriminatory as compared with the rates to Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota points was submitted here at a hearing before C. R. Marshall, special examiner of the interstate commerce commission.

The specific complaints under consideration were one filed by the traffic association of Topeka to the effect that the railroads in fixing the rates had discriminated against Topeka in favor of Lincoln and Beatrice, Neb., and another in which commercial organizations of Wichita and Hutchinson charged that the rates on bananas from the Gulf of Mexico to those points were both discriminatory and unreasonable.

Troops Patrol Strike District.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 21.—Mounted troops at the Mohawk mine in the copper strike district patrolled that vicinity all night because of the presence of prowlers. The resumption of pumping operations in No. 4 shaft of the Mohawk mine and preparations for mining brought a large number of strikers into town from all parts of the Keweenaw district. The troops at all times were in control of the situation.

The Family Cough Medicine.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two 50c bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. GLYNN IS PREPARING HIS FIRST MESSAGE

New Governor of New York Takes Up Duties of Office.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Governor Glynn arrived in Albany from his home in Cedar Hill to make his first appearance in the executive chamber as the governor of the state. No important appointments were expected from Governor Glynn before tomorrow.

The legislature will reconvene tomorrow night. Governor Glynn is now preparing his first message as governor to that body. His recommendations are not expected to reflect a radical change in policy, but will be in the nature of preparation for the winding up of a prolonged and disturbed legislative session.

SURPRISE IN BEILIS CASE

Police Records Used to Show Israel Landau Is Alive.

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 21.—A surprise was sprung by the prosecution during the trial of Mendel Beilis for the murder of a Christian boy, Andrew Yushinsky, in March, 1911.

Documents were produced to counteract the evidence of the defense that the men, Landau and Ettinger, who had been said to be implicated in the crime, were merely harmless visitors to Kiev and quite unconnected with the murder.

The books of the police department showed that Israel Landau, who crossed the frontier in October, 1910, recrossed on March 28, 1911, a few days after the discovery of the murder.

According to the police, Israel Landau was in Kiev on March 24.

MURPHY'S IRE IS AROUSED

Tammany Leader Demands Investigation of Charges.

LETTER READ TO GRAND JURY

Colonizing of Voters for Use on Election Day Alleged—Announces Himself Ready to Answer Any Charges That May Be Made.

New York, Oct. 21.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, demanded a grand jury investigation of charges alleged to have been made by John Purroy Mitchel, fusionist candidate for mayor, to the effect that the Democratic organization leaders were colonizing voters for use on election day. A letter from Mr. Murphy demanding such an investigation was placed before the grand jury by Judge Malone of the court of general sessions.

"I request that you submit to the grand jury now sitting, this matter," says the letter, "so that prompt action may be taken to investigate the charges made by Mr. Mitchel and if they are substantiated, to prosecute the offenders to the full extent of the law. Charges of this sort recur in each succeeding campaign, but heretofore they have been made anonymously, and it seems to me desirable that they should be investigated, that the truth may be known. I enclose herewith a clipping quoting Mr. Mitchel, and I place myself entirely at the disposal of yourself and the grand jury to answer any charges Mr. Mitchel may make."

EVIDENCE AGAINST WIDOW

Wife Said She Wished Admiral Dead, Says Witness.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 21.—Read Admiral Joseph G. Eaton died from poison, at least one dose of which was administered within six or eight hours of his death, during which time, the testimony showed, he was unconscious.

This, the statement of medical experts, was the principal evidence introduced by the government in its efforts to support its charge that the admiral came to his death at the hands of his widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, now on trial for her life.

That Mrs. Eaton had many times said that she wished her husband was dead, was the statement on the witness stand by Henry M. Cates of Rockland, who knew the family in 1910.

Mrs. Eaton still maintained, to a large extent, the composure which she has manifested during the proceedings. Occasionally during the medical testimony she bit her lips and again broke out in laughter at the testimony of acquaintances.

GIRLS CAGED IN FIRETRAP

Governor Hodges Orders Change in Industrial School at Beloit.

Topeka, Oct. 21.—More than 100 girls each night are locked in rooms behind padlocked doors and heavy wire screens at the girls' industrial school at Beloit, with no chance for escape in the event of fire, is the text of a report made to Governor Hodges by Deputy State Marshal C. N. Miller.

The report recites that the windows in the rooms are four feet from the floor, that individual keys are required for each of the more than 100 rooms, that there are no fire escapes on the four-story building in which the girls are caged and that the building is a veritable fire trap, with wooden stairways as the only possible means of escape.

Following the filing of the report Governor Hodges ordered the placing of electric locks on the doors. This will enable the superintendent to unlock all rooms by use of one switch.

Charged With Using Mails to Defraud.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—The trial of Barney and Morris Goldman on a charge of using the mails to defraud began in the federal court. It is charged that the Goldmans, managers of a spectacle company, advertised in weekly newspapers to send a pair of $5 spectacles to anyone who mailed them a coupon attached to each advertisement. Counsel for the government stated they would attempt to show that the Goldmans never intended to forward spectacles in return for the coupons, but they secured the name of a user of spectacles through their advertisement, then opened correspondence with him in an effort to sell a pair for $1.

Episcopalians Elect Four Bishops.

New York, Oct. 21.—Four missionary bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church were elected by the house of bishops at the general convention. They are bishop of North Dakota, Hugh Burleson of New York; bishop of Spokane, W. B. Capers of Columbia, Tenn.; bishop of Cuba, Marlow H. Gates of New York; bishop of New Mexico, F. C. Howden of Geogetown, D. C.

Want Changes in Currency Bill.

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution approving in the main the currency act now before congress, but suggested several amendments. One was the reduction of the number of federal reserve banks to not exceed four, with power to operate branches in their own districts.

MRS. PANKHURST IS RELEASED

America's Doors Opened to Militant Leader.

TAKEN TO BELMONT RESIDENCE

Suffragette Is Highly Elated Over Liberty and Declares "American People Did It"—Free to Go Where She Will in United States.

New York, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, landed on Manhattan island from Ellis island, where she had been detained since last Saturday by the immigrant authorities. She had been ordered deported as an undesirable alien, but President Wilson intervened on her appeal from the decision and instructed Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, to release her on her own recognizance and without bond. Mrs. Pankhurst now will be able to carry out her contemplated lecture tour of this country. She expects to sail for Europe Nov. 23.

Shortly after she landed Mrs. Pankhurst was taken in an automobile to the residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, where she had luncheon, and later was dined at the Aldine club by the Woman's Political union. She was highly elated over her release.

"The American people did it—it is their will," she said. "What will the English say? Then she paid her respects tartly to Reginald McKenna, the British home secretary, characterizing him as "the chief torturer of England." She said it was not her purpose to preach militancy in this country, but that she would confine herself to an exposition of the treatment accorded the suffragettes in England.

Released on Own Recognizance.

Washington, Oct. 21.—America's doors were opened to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and during the few weeks covered by her lecture engagements the British militant suffragist leader is free to go where she will in the United States. An order releasing the much-discussed visitor from detention at Ellis island, New York, and revoking the deportation order of the special inquiry board was issued after President Wilson had conferred with Secretary Wilson of the department of labor and a formal hearing before Immigration Commissioner Caminetti on Mrs. Pankhurst's appeal had been concluded.

Secretary Wilson declared that he and the president had discussed the question briefly.

"We agreed," he said, "that Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted on her own recognizance. My own reason is, and the president feels likewise, that there is naturally an element of doubt as to whether her acts constituted moral turpitude or were political in character. Being admitted on her own recognizance, of course, if she violates any of our laws, we have two remedies. Our courts may pass on her acts or we may deport her."

BRITISH POLICY IN MEXICO

Foreign Office Says It Is Not Antagonistic to United States.

London, Oct. 21.—Walter H. Page, the United States ambassador, discussed the situation in Mexico with the British foreign office officials.

The view of the British government is that the policy of Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico, is not antagonistic to the point of view of the United States and it is pointed out as merely a coincidence that Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials simultaneously with Provisional President Huerta's declaration of a dictatorship.

Tom Watson Is on Trial.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 21.—Thomas E. Watson, lawyer, publicist and one time presidential candidate of the People's party, was placed on trial in the United States district court here on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. The specific charge against Watson is that he published in July, 1911, and April and May of 1912, certain alleged questions which he claimed were asked by Roman Catholic priests to persons in confessional, which questions the indictment alleges were obscene.

Miss Kenney Appears on Stretcher.

London, Oct. 21.—A dramatic appearance at the suffragettes' weekly meeting was made by Miss Annie Kenney, organizer of the Woman's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette society. Suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike" in Holloway jail and looking extremely feeble, she was borne into the hall on a stretcher and was given a memorable reception by the crowd of women there, who stood on chairs and cheered until they were weary.

Bryan Refuses to Discuss Statement.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Secretary Bryan, when asked whether he would comment on the letter of resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, said: "I don't care to discuss it and do not intend to."

Schmidt Pleads Not Guilty to Murder.

New York, Oct. 21.—Through counsel, Hans Schmidt, self confessed murderer of Anna Aumuller, pleaded not guilty to a charge of homicide and was sent back to the Tombs.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

WORK TOGETHER

TOWN AND COUNTRY PEOPLE SHOULD WORK IN UNISON.

EMPLOY COUNTY AGENT

A Plan in Most Communities is to Raise Money to Hire Agricultural Agent.

During the past decade there has been arising all over the United States an awakened interest in agriculture. This interest has grown steadily until today we find business men, bankers, railroads, and men in all lines of work interested in agricultural development. This is a significant thing, and means much to our future prosperity, says the agricultural bulletin issued by the Burlington.

This extensive interest in agriculture has been produced by natural causes. It is a healthy and a legitimate interest. As the country grows older, men everywhere are beginning to realize that agriculture is and always will be the backbone of our national prosperity, and that after all our greatest question is, "How shall we be fed and wherewithal shall we be clothed?" Population is increasing much more rapidly than production. The production of all classes of live stock, with the exception of horses, has declined in the past ten years. Our export trade in grains and beef products is declining, showing a greater home consumption. The fertility of our soils is being sold and shipped away from the farms, steadily making them poorer. There is little room for expansion of our agricultural lands in the United States. Any increase in production must come from better fertilization, better and more intensive methods of farming the lands already under cultivation, and better methods of marketing and distributing the crops produced. The realization of these truths has caused the tremendous interest which is now being taken in the farmer's welfare.

Many methods have been used to advance the interests of the farmer. The state agricultural colleges by their educational courses, farmers' institutes, short courses, experimental work and bulletins, have done much. The government by its experimental stations, field demonstrations and bulletins has assisted materially. The railroads have operated special agricultural trains, distributed seeds, established demonstration farms, and in many other ways have aided in this movement. The farm papers, through their columns, have done a great deal to spread the gospel of better farming.

This has been good work. Yet it has not done the work intended for it to do. There have been many objections and criticisms to the methods used. Every county and every farm has its individual problems, hence the experimental work carried on was in many cases not applicable. The demonstration farms were of little value because they were not operated on the same basis as the farmer's lands. No matter what system of management was used they were criticised because they had large amounts of capital behind them and did not care about making a financial profit on the investment. An investigation disclosed the fact that only 7 per cent of the farmers read the government bulletins. The farmers were skeptical of the institute because there was too much talk and too little demonstration. In nearly all of this work there was too great a distance between the educator and the farmer. A new plan of education was demanded by the most progressive communities. This resolved itself into the county agricultural agent or county demonstrator plan. In brief, the plan is as follows:

The people of the county co-operating together, raise a sum of money sufficient to hire and pay the expenses of a county agricultural agent. This county agent, being employed by the county as a whole, is engaged to devote his entire time to the upbuilding of the county. As expressed in the Clay county, Iowa, preamble, the purpose of this county work is "To make Clay county greater, richer, and a better place to live, and to develop the agricultural, commercial, social and material interest of the county." This is the most practicable and sensible plan for developing the agricultural resources of a county yet presented.

The greatest advantage of this plan is that it reaches the people directly. Personal contact and ocular demonstrations are the best possible ways in which to get information to the farmers. To believe a thing, a man must have confidence in the person who makes the statement. The county agricultural agent, by meeting the farmers directly, if he is the right sort, inspires confidence. By making field demonstrations, which all can see, the value of the information can be tested.

The organization of the county as a whole for the purpose of developing the county will tend to unify the county. Town and country people work together for the common good. It tends to do away with the imaginary line which exists between town and country.

It will also advertise the county on its merits. Counties having agricultural agents will be known as progressives. People will hear of the work and will be attracted to the county. The county man will do for the county what paid commercial secretaries have done for many of our cities.

Money spent in such development work will be returned a hundred fold, due to the stimulus given to the county by the presence of a "live wire." But this is not all. Mr. W. A. Hamilton, milk inspector of Kansas City, Mo., says:

"It is not altogether a matter of producing 100 bushels of corn where 50 grew before, nor piling up a bank account to the greatest altitude, half so much as that all men shall realize their kinship and the solidity of mankind, that the farm life shall become more attractive, that the burdens of the housewife shall be less, that the education of the boy and girl shall be more practical, and that public improvement shall be encouraged."

The Burlington railroad is interested in the progress of this work, because of the value of such work in building up the territory. They stand willing to assist counties where they have sufficient mileage, in starting this work by:

1st. Giving financial aid to worthy counties which will organize on a permanent basis for this work.

2nd. Lending the assistance of their agricultural department wherever and whenever possible.

They will be pleased to lend the assistance of their agricultural department to anyone along the line desiring assistance. They are interested in all problems of an agricultural nature. They will gladly co-operate with any agency for the purpose of bettering conditions along the line. If you are interested in the development of your community and want help; if you want to organize a farmers' club, a short course, an agricultural fair or an institute, if they can help you in any way in your farming operations they will be very glad to hear from you. They will welcome criticisms and suggestions as to ways in which they can benefit their territory. Write them your opinions. Address all correspondence and inquiries to J. B. Lamson, agriculturist, C., B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

312 CITIES OWN PLANTS.

Public Service Commission Gathers Statistics in Missouri.

Statisticians in the employ of the Missouri public service commission have recently compiled figures showing the number of municipally owned utilities in the state.

There are 312 of these plants, all small, however, with the exception of the St. Louis and Kansas City water companies. The plants are of various kinds, many being engaged in the manufacture of gas and electricity, solely, some supplying heat, light, power and water and some electricity or gas alone.

The compilation shows the following:

Electric service, 127; gas, 19; water, 17; electricity and water, 10; water and gas, 4; electricity and heat, 6; electricity, heat and gas, 3; electricity, heat, gas and water, 1; heat, 1; refrigeration, 2.

Municipalities furnishing electrical service, 32; gas service, 1; water service, 45; electricity and water, 29; electricity and gas, 1, and water and gas, 1.

IN DAYS OF YORE

THE QUILTING AND SHOOTING MATCHES WERE BRIGHT SPOTS.

HELPED CURE "BLUES"

Nights Spent in Dancing—Also Tempting Feasts Were Spread—A pioneer's Description.

Among the pioneer day sports in this county may be mentioned the shooting matches and quilting parties, both of which were enjoyed by old and young alike, and much different from the sports of today. One settler, in speaking of it, said:

"The quilting parties were especially pleasant to attend and were often conducted jointly with "rail splittings." The established rule in those days at these gatherings was to pay either $1 in money or split 100 rails during the course of the day. The men would split the rails and the women would remain in the house and do the quilting. After the day's work was done, the night would be spent in dancing. When broad daylight appeared the music would cease, likewise the tip of the "light fantistic toe."

"The evening visits, when the nearby, and at times ever far-away, neighbors would gather in some pioneer house and spend the first half of the long winter night, were also among the feasts for the early settlers. At a late hour the good housewife would spread her table and soon a tempting supper was placed before the visitors. These and many other pleasant meetings made life easier to endure, driving away the homesickness and "blues" that often came upon both the husband and wife of the house. By this they were made cheerful for the time being and received a hearty invitation to "come over to our place some evening," which went on from house to house, until seeding time arrived in the spring, when pioneers had minds and hands all too full for seeking such visitations. These were some of the bright spots in the days of yore in this county."

EXPERIMENTING WITH ALFALFA.

An experiment has been carried on under the supervision of Prof. J. C. Hackleman of the agronomy department of the state agricultural college since August 20, 1910, to demonstrate the effect of the variety and source of seed upon the growth and longevity of the alfalfa plant. Several varieties from various sources were sown in individual rows 2½ feet apart and 120 feet long. A check seed, obtained from a reliable seed company was used every sixth row.

The average yield of the plants for the three years of the experiment varies from two tons per cutting to about two-fifths of a ton. Some of the varieties started were killed entirely by the winter freezing. Others lost from 10 to 50 per cent of their plants, making a poor stand. The best varieties are as thick as ever, not being affected by our severe winters.

"This fall I was very fortunate in being able to get several seeds from individual rows, as we are not often able to get alfalfa seed from plants in this section," Mr. Hackleman said. "The general yield was good. In harvesting, as much difference between yields of seeds of different varieties of alfalfa was noticed, as in hay. This indicates other possibilities in this work."

The experiment will be continued next year with greater selection of seed and a better idea of what to strive for. Figures will then be given to show the place of alfalfa as a growing crop in this section.

Funeral Services Wednesday.

The funeral services for Mrs. Kathryn Langan-Baker will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Christian church, and will be conducted by Rev. S. D. Harkness of the First Presbyterian church. Interment at St. Mary's cemetery, Rev. F. Willibrord officiating.

MRS. CHARLES ANTHONY DEAD.

Passed Away Some Time Tuesday Morning—Had Been Ill at St. Francis Hospital a Week.

Mrs. Charles Anthony was found dead in her bed Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock by her husband, who thought she was lying unusually quiet and thought best to awaken her.

Mrs. Anthony had been ill in bed for three weeks. A week ago she was taken home from the hospital, where she had been taking a week's treatment, and was considered much better, and on Monday she said she was feeling unusually well.

When Mr. Anthony got up early Tuesday morning he noticed that she was lying very quiet, and thinking she was resting unusually well did not speak to her for some time. About 7 o'clock he thought she was unusually quiet and thought he would speak to her and get her to take a little breakfast. When he spoke to her he found that she was dead. Her death had not occurred much before he awoke Tuesday morning, it is the opinion of the physicians. She was afflicted with a complication of diseases that weakened her heart.

No funeral arrangements have been made and will not be until the arrival of Frank Anthony of near Pickering and Senas Anthony of Mounds, Okla., the surviving children.

Mrs. Anthony leaves three sisters, Mrs. Will Thompson of Graham, Mrs. Truesdale of Richland Center, Wis., and Mrs. Maggie Calhoun of Oklahoma.

She was born in North Jackson, Mahoney county, O., and would have been 68 years old had she lived until the coming 27th day of November. She was married to her husband in 1866. They came to Nodaway county thirty-three years ago and settled on a farm six miles northwest of Barnard, where they lived until ten years ago, when they moved to Maryville, to their home at West Twelfth street, where her death occurred.

She was a member of the M. E. church, South, of Barnard.

TODAY IS APPLE DAY.

Is the Ninth Observance in the United States Intended to Arouse Interest.

Today is national apple day. It is the ninth annual apple day, originated and fostered by the International Apple Shippers' association, and it will be observed not only in the United States, but in Canada and all countries where apples are grown.

While the apple crop in some parts of this country has not been as bountiful this year as usual, it nowhere has been a failure and in many localities is normal. One authority says that the crop is equal to a wall of apples twelve feet high extending from Chicago to New York. If the apples were placed end to end, they would extend more than 300,000 miles, or equal a double track six times around the world. If they were packed in barrels and the barrels piled end on end, the top would be more than 6,000 miles above the earth. If the fruit were offered for shipment on a single day the railroads and ocean steamships would be powerless to move it.

The primary purpose of apple day is educational and to foster the advancement of apple culture. It was hoped to bring everyone into touch with the fascinating vocation and to awaken a national pride in a fruit that the United States produces in unequaled excellence. The apple in its highest development belongs distinctively to the United States, and is considered the king of all fruits.

Persons who have not already acquired the habit, are urged to begin on apple day to eat at least one apple each day. No fruit is so healthful, it is argued, and none is so generally loved. The promoters of the day especially urge that the children be amply provided with apples.

Purchased Property Here.

Walter H. Campbell of Barnard purchased Monday the Enos J. Kissinger six-acre tract lying in Southeast Maryville. Mr. Kissinger bought of Campbell & Pollard their farm, one mile east of Barnard. Allen Bros. of this city represented both parties in the transaction.

A WELL-NIGH UNANIMOUS VERDICT IN WASHINGTON.

HE THINKS CLEARLY

Then Proceed to Act Without Hesitation as to Outcome—He Has Made Good.

A dispatch from Washington to the St. Louis Republic says:

If his seven months' service is enough to base a judgment upon, Woodrow Wilson is a success in the presidency. Such is the well-nigh unanimous verdict here.

An interesting question, therefore, is just this: Why is he successful? Here's an answer, perhaps a complete one, which a Democratic senator skimmed off the top of his mind in conversation with friends the other evening:

"You probably remember, though have not paused to consider and apply to President Wilson, the rule which says the shortest distance between two given points is a straight line.

"Now, Mr. Wilson is the best example in American public life of the value of applying this rule in public affairs. His feet are always on solid ground; he knows 'where he is at.'

"He picks out his destination, and then proceeds along the straight line, without hesitation or deviation, to said destination.

"Of course, this is merely a way of saying he thinks clearly. But his ability to think clearly, marvelous though it is, is not the greatest quality he possesses. The presidency is probably the most difficult of positions in which to get and keep your bearings. The word 'keep' implies his greatest quality, fixity of purpose. He sees what to do, decides to do it—and never wavers.

"Now, the way along this straight line, of course, is beset with obstacles. He must fight to keep going. This he does, smiling all the time. For a man with chronic indigestion, his capacity to smile when things seem to be wrong is simply unbelievable.

"'By their fruits ye shall know them.' Well, each week and each month Wilson is further along the road to accomplishment than he was the preceding week and preceding month. His quality of getting there wins the confidence and hence the cooperation of congress. Democratic representatives and senators see that their personal and political fortunes are irrevocably bound up with Wilson's. Hence they are generally found in line behind him.'

W. Rufus Hollister, private secretary of Senator Stone, did not intend to be quoted when he discoursed as is hereinbelow set forth. But there's no harm in it, and his view emphasizes the fact of Wilson's dominant place in Democratic politics.

"Just one thing Missourians will decide a year from November, and that is whether or not the Wilson administration will be given a vote of confidence," Hollister said. "The issue will be only this: Has Wilson made good? I haven't a doubt about the outcome, nor have I met anyone who has."

The "fresh-water button people" who protested when the Underwood tariff was in the making that it would drive them out of business have discovered that it grants them a valuable concession. These buttons are made from mussel shells, and the factories are scattered along the Mississippi river from Iowa to Louisiana.

W. C. Grubbs of Canton, Mo., on behalf of the whole industry, has called the attention of Mississippi valley senators to the convict labor clause of the new law. Under this clause the importation of convict made goods is prohibited. It appears that buttons made by convicts in Austria compete with our own fresh water buttons in large quantities. Grubbs insists that the law hits the Austrian buttons. If it is proven that they are convict made the foreign buttons will be shut out.

The job of an umpire in the world series is a sinecure beside that of Postmaster General Burleson. He is the umpire of more different kinds of political spats than any other man in the administration.

One aspect of his task involves expanding the civil service system. Another involves the dispensation of the greatest number of political jobs in the gift of the administration. His newest task of umpiring has to do with the dividing line between the two classes of jobs.

The fourth class postmasterships are now being awarded to the winners of civil service examinations. But the compensation of fourth class postmasters fluctuates in relation to the amount of business done in their offices, and the law provides that when a fourth class postmaster's pay runs above $250 for three consecutive quarters his office automatically becomes a third class office. When this happens the job becomes a political one.

In Missouri cases have arisen in which fourth class officeholders are accused of having so juggled their accounts as to avoid passing the $250 mark three consecutive times. In these instances Democratic candidates are seeking to get the places through political channels. Mr. Burleson is making an investigation in each case to determine the truth of the charges.

SIN IS CALLED SUICIDAL.

Question Whether Man Who Ends Life is Insane, Dr. Robbins Says.

Declaration that "sin is suicidal" was made by Rev. Grant A. Robbins, pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal church of St. Louis in a sermon there Sunday morning on "God's Thoughts and Man's." Rev. Robbins was formerly pastor of the First M. E. church of this city.

"Self-destruction is the outgrowth of hopelessness, of despair," said Dr. Robbins. "The question whether the self-destroyer is necessarily insane is a moot one. But we all practice a kind of self-destruction. We abbreviate our own lives. Most of us merely exist; we do not live. Our eyes are downward. There is no widening and expanding of the soul, no breathing of God's mountain air.

"God's thoughts are not man's thoughts in reference to the uselessness of effort. God inspires hope. God comes to the rescue.

"Man's thoughts concerning forgiveness could not equal God's. We sometimes have eulogized the sense of forgiveness and mercy and tenderness in man, speaking of it as if it were the really human trait. We speak about 'humanitarianism,' but in reality what we call humanity is divinity.

"Jesus seems to stand on the side of the human. He joins himself to humanity when he calls himself 'Son of man.' He takes up the case of the race of men. What means those parables concerning the 'Lost Sheep' and the 'Lost Piece of Money' and the 'Lost Man,' if it is not a plea for the value of the worst human? When a weeping woman bathed the Savior's feet with her tears, they said this man is not a prophet or he would have known the character of the woman who touched him, but Jesus understood it all. Christ saw in her a possible saint."

Dr. Robbins referred to the recent convention of the Episcopal church and the regret that the expression, 'class church,' had there been used. "But it is stated," he added, "that there is a new movement on to reach the common people. Pharisaism in the church would destroy its vital power. The most scathing denunciations of our Savior were directed against Pharisaism in the Jewish church. God has always honored the services and ministry of the men who came to His thought and His plan for the saving of men."

A CASE OF NEED

FAMILY IN DIREST POVERTY IN MARYVILLE.

ARE COLD AND HUNGRY

Children Should Have Clothing and Food—They Must Have a House.

We wish every reader of The Democrat-Forum might visit a place that is called the home of a family now living in Maryville, in company with a reporter for this paper, who went to that "home" Monday evening with a member of the board of charities.

It is a shack in the Harrison pasture over beyond the cattle chute at the Burlington station. It was built as a sheltering place for men who would be working there in bad weather, and a stove has been in there for several years, in which a fire could be made in severe weather. But no one dreamed of any one trying to live there.

About two weeks ago a man and his wife and four children drove into Maryville from Gove county, Kansas, where they had been burned out by last summer's drought. They stopped here because it was the best looking country they had seen in their travels to get away from the drought country.

They showed the terrible strain of hardships, the father and mother looking extremely worn from overwork and hunger.

The man asked for work and was given all he was able to do. He and his family drove to the Harrison pasture, upon permission of the Harrison brothers to do so, and there they have lived in that little shack in daytime and slept in the wagon at night.

Men around town have several times clubbed together and bought them groceries. But that is not all they need. They are completely down and out. There is not anything they do not need, and as we looked around in the little shack Monday evening trying to see what they cooked in and ate their food out of, you would not believe it if we said they didn't have a thing worth having to do with.

If you want to do good to yourself, send them dishes, pans and cooking utensils of any kind and you won't make a mistake.

The 14-year-old girl had on a calico dress that had no sleeves, no underwear, but she had stockings and slippers on. Her condition has been relieved since. She is at the home of Mrs. G. A. Nash. She is a bright little girl, has always been in school and Sunday school when possible, and her three brothers show good raising. They are good people, and those who have talked with the father have confidence in him. But he must have food before he can have strength.

The mother is afflicted with weak eyes. But her way of speaking to her children shows that she has done the best she could for them.

What is needed is a house for this family. Money for a month's rent will be a good start, and you may contribute to Harry Harrison or the charity board.

CIRCUIT COURT TOMORROW.

An Adjourned Session to Dispose of Several Motions.

A session of circuit court will be held Wednesday with Judge W. C. Ellison on the bench. The court will dispose of several motions, such as motions for new trials, for appeals and for change of venue. The docket will be gone over and will be cleaned up.

The case of Benjamin Hutchinson vs. Ada Stockton, nee Long, motion to review judgment, will come up tomorrow.

NO BIDS WERE RECEIVED

By the City for the Job of Paving on North Market Street—Too Small a Job.

A special meeting of the city council was to have been held Monday night, but there was no quorum. The purpose of the meeting was to let the contract for paving North Market street from First to Third and the alley between Second and Third and Main and Market streets, but there were no bids received by the city.

The city will probably again ask for bids from paving contractors. It is said that the job is so small that it would not pay a paving company to ship their machinery here and take the chances of collecting their money from the property owners.

Famous Sayings About Children.

In the November Woman's Home Companion, Mary Heaton Vorse writes the second of a series of articles entitled "The New Freedom for Little Children," in which she shows how the Montessori principle of education may be applied by the American mother at home. The editor of the Companion, in the course of an introduction to the series, quotes the following sayings about children. These sayings are the sayings of the greatest observers, lovers and educators of children from Froebel to Montessori:

"Trust childhood."

"There is no bad child. The bad child is a good child in a wrong environment."

"There is no stupid child. The stupid child is a child receiving an education unsuited to it."

"Give children a chance to expand according to their individual temperaments."

"Observe children as you do flowers. Help them to be themselves. Give them the soil they need."

Luke McLuke Says.

Lots of men can live within their incomes. But the guards lock them up in their cells every night.

Charity covers a multitude of sins, but pimples always show through.

Some girls wear well, but most of them wear off.

A financier is a man who can buy his wife a $9 ball-bearing washing machine and make her forget that what she wanted was an automobile.

They have laws against all other forms of gambling, but you can marry for money any time you want to.

It comes natural for a boy to love his mother because he will never realize how much pain and worry he has caused her.

There was a time when mother kept father waiting for an hour while she dressed. But things have changed, and nowadays mother is usually waiting for father to get through doiling up.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Married at St. Mary's.

Miss Emma Breedlove and Frank Wilmas of near Arkoe were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. Willibrord officiating. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Rosa Wilmas, a sister of the groom, and John Meyers from Indiana.

Who Will Name This Club?

A new club, not yet named, has been organized with the following membership: Miss Jane Hinote, Miss Mary Ogden, Mrs. Stella Mason Lewis, Mrs. Eva Houston Scott, Miss Ella Richards, Miss Bess Porter, Miss Phyllis Sayler, Miss Hazel Ritchie, Miss Beulah Bruner, Miss Nelle Hudson, Miss Nancy Lee Maxwell, Miss Hettie Anthony, Miss Inez Bainum, Miss Golda Airy, Miss LaRue Kemp and Miss Dora Day.

His Seventy-First Anniversary.

A very successful surprise was given Friday forenoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. House, two and a half miles northwest of Bolckow, when a company of relatives and friends assembled at 11 o'clock and spread a delicious dinner, which was served at 12:30. The delightful affair was to celebrate the seventy-first anniversary of Mr. House. He received the best wishes of the company for many more anniversaries as happy as the one just celebrated.

Will Give a "Kid" Party.

To celebrate the closing of the contest for new members, the Y. W. C. A. of the State Normal will have a gay time Friday night. The association was divided into two sections for the contest, the Reds and the Blues, and the Blues have won. According to agreement, the losing side is to entertain the winning side, so the Reds will give a "kid" party at the Normal, everyone invited to come attired after the style of children, the more kiddish you appear the better.

The K. K. Girls Met Friday.

The K. K. girls of Parnell, with Maybird Mayfield and Quete Morgan as hostesses, met Friday afternoon at the Mayfield home. An hour was spent in business, reading and fancy work, and the remainder of the afternoon in playing games. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Mayfield. Through the kindness of Mr. Mayfield the girls were taken to and from the place of meeting in his farm wagon. As they left for their homes each guest was presented a pumpkin that is to be made into a jack-o'-lantern for Hallowe'en. All spent a delightful afternoon.

A Good Time at President's Home.

The senior class of the Northwest Normal entertained the members of the faculty in a delightful way Saturday evening at the home of President and Mrs. Richardson. The principal pastime of the evening was a conversazione carried on after the manner of a dance. Handsomely printed programs were given to each lady and her engagement secured for one period or at the piano player and engagements dance. President Richardson presided for a tete-a-tete during the playing of that number were filled, or were sometimes rudely broken off by the pianist, who unexpectedly ceased the music, which was always the signal for a change of partners for the next engagement in conversation. Other diversions were enjoyed, and then luncheon.

Organized Queen Esther Circle.

A Queen Esther Circle was organized at the home of Miss Loma Bowers Saturday evening, which will enlist the girls of 14 years old and over of the First M. E. church in home missionary work. The circle will meet the second Friday night of each month for study and attention to phases of work that will be presented to them. They will begin the study of Mormonism at their next meeting. The circle will work under the direction of Miss Jane Barrows. The officers chosen are Miss Ula Strader, president; Miss Ruby Irwin, vice president; Miss Mary Sewell, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy DeMotte, corresponding secretary; Miss Vijune Colden, secretary of supplies; Miss Greta Kemp, treasurer, and Miss Mattie Clayton, secretary of the mite boxes.

Remembered His Birthday.

The college algebra class at the State Normal did not have its lesson for Tuesday afternoon, we learn, and in order to escape the reprimand they so richly deserved, they devised a plan (they are every last one schemers from the word go) whereby they might win the grace of their instructor, the good Dean G. H. Colbert, so completely that he would forget all about the lesson. The girls of the class have long since read that "the way to a man's heart is by way of his stomach," and so they brought a nice luncheon, and invited the very president himself, Professor Ira Richardson, to come and be the dignity of the class period, and it worked splendidly. Dean Colbert yielded with perfect grace and accepted as a perfect matter of course all the nice things said to him by Professor Richardson and the students, and it certainly was one of the most unexpected and nicest affairs the students have thought of in a long time. However, the college algebra class denies emphatically they did not have their lesson. And maybe it is true, after all, for some who are not smart enough to be in their class do start terribles on them. It turns out that the real reason for the demonstration is that Tuesday is Dean Colbert's birthday anniversary, and the class wanted to show him a nice little courtesy of some sort for his uniform kindness and patience with them. So no wonder President Richardson gave his consent and pleasant, dignified, smiling presence. He is going to have a birthday, too, some day. The members of the class are Wayland Ford, Mr. La Salle, Frank McKee, Ethel Rush, Miss Metzer, Jane Gladstone, Clara Clymens, Francyl Rickenbrode, Martha Denny, Elizabeth Sobbing Grace DeMotte.

Studied Italian Painting.

A visitor at the meeting of the Arts and Crafts department of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon said the program matter and the ability shown by those participating would have done justice to any woman's club anywhere. Miss Anna Dooley was the hostess and leader for the study. Her comments at the close of each paper or talk was both instructive and entertaining. The older members of the club, used to taking part, did themselves proud with their papers, while Mrs. George Bellows' talk was as good as a lecture by Mrs. Ess, considering the time and subject she handled. The two new members on the program, who gave their first papers, Mrs. Byron Rhoades and Mrs. J. H. Gray, were highly commended. The program was as follows: Give a brief outline of painting to the year 1250, Miss Laura Barmann. Outline Italian painting from 1250 to 1600 or to the decadence, Miss Clara Sturm. Who was Lionardo de Vinci and in how many fields did he achieve success? Mrs. George P. Bellows. What picture of his was stolen recently (Mona Lisa)? Mrs. S. R. Beech. Describe the picture Mona Lisa and how to study pictures, Mrs. W. H. Carpenter. Which is his most famous picture (The Last Supper), Mrs. Roy Collins. From 1474 to 1564 the study was: Who reached the pinnacle of success as a sculptor in this period (Michael Angelo)? Mrs. R. C. Benight. Was he also a painter? Mrs. S. G. Gillam. Name and describe some of his works, Mrs. J. A. Ford [illegible] pare Raphael with Micha[illegible] Mrs. J. H. Gray. Tell the [illegible] phael's life, Mrs. Byron Rhoades. What influence has his work on the people? Mrs. George R. Eaton. Tell the story of the Madonna of the Chair, Miss Elise Jackson. Who painted the "Holy Night" (Correggio)? Mrs. J. F. Colby. Name other pictures and compare with Raphael, Miss Ella Walton Frank. General discussion by club of Italian painting. During the business session a vote of thanks was extended Miss Dooley for copies of the paintings talked of during the lesson, which each member of the department received for future reference. Also a vote of thanks was extended Miss Jessie Parcher, past president of the general club, for securing the brilliant Mrs. Ess of Kansas City for the lecture last week.

The Economy of "One Man" Direction

IT IS obivious that a motor car manufacturer can build 50,000 cars at much less than he can build 1,000. But the difference in quantity buying and in quantity manufacturing are not the only elements of saving which can be effected.

Each factory has its own system, its own machinery, its own personnel. Some are still making cars by the old routine with the conventional methods and machinery. Some have advanced more or less and a few, a very few, are producing on the up-to-the-minute efficiency basis by special machinery and special methods particularly adapted to the size and type of the car being made.

We say without hesitation, and it is a fact well-known in the trade, that the great Overland plants are unquestionably the most thoroughly, efficiently and economically equipped and managed.

This great business has the advantage of the personal direction of one single man—the man who founded the business, the man who has grown up with it from the beginning, the man who developed it—John N. Willys.

Mr. Willys has clung steadfastly to the watchword, "The most car for the least money." And each year he has more than made good this principle.

To produce a car of the Overland size, power, strength and high quality, and to sell that car for such a remarkably low price, has taxed, to the utmost, all the resourcefulness, foresight, ingenuity, untiring energy and wide experience of, not only Mr. Willys, but a veritable army of the industry's most able men.

Mr. Willys knows men, and it is well known that no manufacturing institution, perhaps in the world, can boast of a larger or more efficient and well-trained, well-paid, well-satisfied organization.

In the newest Overland INCREASED value at a DECREASED price is more prominent and apparent than ever.

You will make a grave mistake if you fail to thoroughly examine our latest model.

MISSING NURSE OF LEPERS RETURNS

Acquaintance Persuaded Her Not to End Life.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Miss Marie Collier, who disappeared Friday, leaving a note saying that she had been ostracised by society because she formerly was a nurse in a leper colony, has returned.

She asserted that the unfounded reports that she was suffering from leprosy, causing her friends to forsake her, had so discouraged her that she had determined to shoot herself. She said that Miss A. Benjamin of Milwaukee, an acquaintance, had persuaded her not to end her life.

"I became so dispirited Friday that I decided there was no use living any longer," said Miss Collier. "Miss Benjamin brightened me up and I now intend to go back to the lepers. I am an outcast from society. A number of doctors have made examinations and reported that I am free from leprosy, but my friends refuse to believe. If I go to any gathering the crowd near me dwindles, until I find myself standing alone."

SAY RATES FAVOR NEBRASKA

Kansas Traffic Associations Allege Roads Discriminate.

Kansas City, Oct. 21.—Evidence to support the complaints of various traffic associations and commercial organizations in Kansas that the freight tariffs on bananas shipped from New Orleans and Galveston to Topeka, Wichita and Hutchinson are unjustly discriminatory as compared with the rates to Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota points was submitted here at a hearing before C. R. Marshall, special examiner of the interstate commerce commission.

The specific complaints under consideration were one filed by the traffic association of Topeka to the effect that the railroads in fixing the rates had discriminated against Topeka in favor of Lincoln and Beatrice, Neb., and another in which commercial organizations of Wichita and Hutchinson charged that the rates on bananas from the Gulf of Mexico to those points were both discriminatory and unreasonable.

Troops Patrol Strike District.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 21.—Mounted troops at the Mohawk mine in the copper strike district patrolled that vicinity all night because of the presence of prowlers. The resumption of pumping operations in No. 4 shaft of the Mohawk mine and preparations for mining brought a large number of strikers into town from all parts of the Keweenaw district. The troops at all times were in control of the situation.

The Family Cough Medicine.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two 50c bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Price, 50c and $1.00. All druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Advertisement.

GLYNN IS PREPARING HIS FIRST MESSAGE

New Governor of New York Takes Up Duties of Office.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Governor Glynn arrived in Albany from his home in Cedar Hill to make his first appearance in the executive chamber as the governor of the state. No important appointments were expected from Governor Glynn before tomorrow.

The legislature will reconvene tomorrow night. Governor Glynn is now preparing his first message as governor to that body. His recommendations are not expected to reflect a radical change in policy, but will be in the nature of preparation for the winding up of a prolonged and disturbed legislative session.

SURPRISE IN BEILIS CASE

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 21.—A surprise was sprung by the prosecution during the trial of Mendel Beilis for the murder of a Christian boy, Andrew Yushinsky, in March, 1911.

Documents were produced to counteract the evidence of the defense that the men, Landau and Ettinger, who had been said to be implicated in the crime, were merely harmless visitors to Kiev and quite unconnected with the murder.

The books of the police department showed that Israel Landau, who crossed the frontier in October, 1910, recrossed on March 28, 1911, a few days after the discovery of the murder. According to the police, Israel Landau was in Kiev on March 24.

MURPHY'S IRE IS AROUSED

Tammany Leader Demands Investigation of Charges.

LETTER READ TO GRAND JURY

Colonizing of Voters for Use on Election Day Alleged—Announces Himself Ready to Answer Any Charges That May Be Made.

New York, Oct. 21.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, demanded a grand jury investigation of charges alleged to have been made by John Purroy Mitchel, fusionist candidate for mayor, to the effect that the Democratic organization leaders were colonizing voters for use on election day. A letter from Mr. Murphy demanding such an investigation was placed before the grand jury by Judge Malone of the court of general sessions.

"I request that you submit to the grand jury now sitting, this matter," says the letter, "so that prompt action may be taken to investigate the charges made by Mr. Mitchel and if they are substantiated, to prosecute the offenders to the full extent of the law. Charges of this sort recur in each succeeding campaign, but heretofore they have been made anonymously, and it seems to me desirable that they should be investigated, that the truth may be known. I enclose herewith a clipping quoting Mr. Mitchel, and I place myself entirely at the disposal of yourself and the grand jury to answer any charges Mr. Mitchel may make."

EVIDENCE AGAINST WIDOW

Wife Said She Wished Admiral Dead, Says Witness.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 21.—Read Admiral Joseph G. Eaton died from poison, at least one dose of which was administered within six or eight hours of his death, during which time, the testimony showed, he was unconscious.

This, the statement of medical experts, was the principal evidence introduced by the government in its efforts to support its charge that the admiral came to his death at the hands of his widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, now on trial for her life.

That Mrs. Eaton had many times said that she wished her husband was dead, was the statement on the witness stand by Henry M. Cates of Rockland, who knew the family in 1910.

Mrs. Eaton still maintained, to a large extent, the composure which she has manifested during the proceedings. Occasionally during the medical testimony she bit her lips and again broke out in laughter at the testimony of acquaintances.

GIRLS CAGED IN FIRETRAP

Governor Hodges Orders Change in Industrial School at Beloit.

Topeka, Oct. 21.—More than 100 girls each night are locked in rooms behind padlocked doors and heavy wire screens at the girls' industrial school at Beloit, with no chance for escape in the event of fire, is the text of a report made to Governor Hodges by Deputy State Marshal C. N. Miller.

The report recites that the windows in the rooms are four feet from the floor, that individual keys are required for each of the more than 100 rooms, that there are no fire escapes on the four-story building in which the girls are caged and that the building is a veritable fire trap, with wooden stairways as the only possible means of escape.

Following the filing of the report Governor Hodges ordered the placing of electric locks on the doors. This will enable the superintendent to unlock all rooms by use of one switch.

Charged With Using Mails to Defraud.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—The trial of Barney and Morris Goldman on a charge of using the mails to defraud began in the federal court. It is charged that the Goldmans, managers of a spectacle company, advertised in weekly newspapers to send a pair of $5 spectacles to anyone who mailed them a coupon attached to each advertisement. Counsel for the government stated they would attempt to show that the Goldmans never intended to forward spectacles in return for the coupons, but they secured the name of a user of spectacles through their advertisement, then opened correspondence with him in an effort to sell a pair for $1.

Episcopalians Elect Four Bishops.

New York, Oct. 21.—Four missionary bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church were elected by the house of bishops at the general convention. They are bishop of North Dakota, Hugh Burleson of New York; bishop of Spokane, W. B. Capers of Columbia, Tenn.; bishop of Cuba, Marlow H. Gates of New York; bishop of New Mexico, F. C. Howden of Georgetown, D. C.

Want Changes in Currency Bill.

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution approving in the main the currency act now before congress, but suggested several amendments. One was the reduction of the number of federal reserve banks to not exceed four, with power to operate branches in their own districts.

MRS. PANKHURST IS RELEASED

America's Doors Opened to Militant Leader.

TAKEN TO BELMONT RESIDENCE

Suffragette Is Highly Elated Over Liberty and Declares "American People Did It"—Free to Go Where She Will in United States.

New York, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, landed on Manhattan island from Ellis island, where she had been detained since last Saturday by the immigrant authorities. She had been ordered deported as an undesirable alien, but President Wilson intervened on her appeal from this decision and instructed Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, to release her on her own recognizance and without bond. Mrs. Pankhurst now will be able to carry out her contemplated lecture tour of this country. She expects to sail for Europe Nov. 23.

Shortly after she landed Mrs. Pankhurst was taken in an automobile to the residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, where she had luncheon, and later was dined at the Aldine club by the Woman's Political union. She was highly elated over her release.

"The American people did it—it is their will," she said. "What will the English say? Then she paid her respects tartly to Reginald McKenna, the British home secretary, characterizing him as "the chief torturer of England." She said it was not her purpose to preach militancy in this country, but that she would confine herself to an exposition of the treatment accorded the suffragettes in England.

Released on Own Recognizance.

Washington, Oct. 21.—America's doors were opened to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and during the few weeks covered by her lecture engagements the British militant suffragist leader is free to go where she will in the United States. An order releasing the much-discussed visitor from detention at Ellis island, New York, and revoking the deportation order of the special inquiry board was issued after President Wilson had conferred with Secretary Wilson of the department of labor and a formal hearing before Immigration Commissioner Caminetti on Mrs. Pankhurst's appeal had been concluded.

Secretary Wilson declared that he and the president had discussed the question briefly.

"We agreed," he said, "that Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted on her own recognizance. My own reason is, and the president feels likewise, that there is naturally an element of doubt as to whether her acts constituted moral turpitude or were political in character. Being admitted on her own recognizance, of course, if she violates any of our laws, we have two remedies. Our courts may pass on her acts or we may deport her."

BRITISH POLICY IN MEXICO

Foreign Office Says It Is Not Antagonistic to United States.

London, Oct. 21.—Walter H. Page, the United States ambassador, discussed the situation in Mexico with the British foreign office officials.

The view of the British government is that the policy of Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico, is not antagonistic to the point of view of the United States and it is pointed out as merely a coincidence that Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials simultaneously with Provisional President Huerta's declaration of a dictatorship.

Tom Watson Is on Trial.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 21.—Thomas E. Watson, lawyer, publicist and one time presidential candidate of the People's party, was placed on trial in the United States district court here on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. The specific charge against Watson is that he published in July, 1911, and April and May of 1912, certain alleged questions which he claimed were asked by Roman Catholic priests to persons in confessional, which questions the indictment alleges were obscene.

Miss Kenney Appears on Stretcher.

London, Oct. 21.—A dramatic appearance at the suffragettes' weekly meeting was made by Miss Annie Kenney, organizer of the Woman's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette society. Suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike" in Holloway jail and looking extremely feeble, she was borne into the hall on a stretcher and was given a memorable reception by the crowd of women there, who stood on chairs and cheered until they were weary.

Bryan Refuses to Discuss Statement.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Secretary Bryan, when asked whether he would comment on the letter of resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, said: "I don't care to discuss it and do not intend to."

Schmidt Pleads Not Guilty to Murder

New York, Oct. 21.—Through counsel, Hans Schmidt, self confessed murderer of Anna Aumuller, pleaded not guilty to a charge of homicide and was sent back to the Tombs.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
